20th. March '40.

My dear Prince Jah

I have not written to you before as I knew you'd be inundated with letters.

I wish to write on behalf of my wife and myself to tell you how very sorry we were to hear of the death of your father, The Yuvarajah of Mysore. He was a very old friend of mine and at all times was exceedingly kind to me and my wife, and we enjoyed our trip in Paris very much with him and you.

Please convey to your mother our greatest sympathies for her and you all.

My wife is at present in England. When we come up to Mysore next time, we hope to have the pleasure of seeing you, your wife and your mother again.

Yours very sincerely,
L.F. Kingston.
